

FACES PRISON WITH REFUSAL

Poultney Bigelow Will Not Make Known His Source Of Information To Committee.

RELIES ON HIS HERESAY EVIDENCE

Tells of Conditions As He Has Heard The Tales From Others, But Gives Little Of Value From His Own Experiences.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

Washington, Jan. 19.—The Senate committee on canal held an important executive session this morning to discuss what should be done with Poultney Bigelow for his refusal to disclose the source of his information relative to the canal work. Over the Washington, Jan. 19.—Over the head of Poultney Bigelow the shadow of imprisonment hangs. Refusal on his part to disclose the sources of information upon which he based certain statements while testifying regarding conditions in Panama before the senate committee on inter-oceanic canals, in the opinion of the majority of that committee, has placed Mr. Bigelow in the attitude of being in contempt of the committee.

After the members of the committee had debated this question for an hour or more, it developed that there is practical agreement that the offense of Mr. Bigelow is clearly contempt, but there is some difference of opinion as to how the matter shall be treated. While all but Senators Gorman and Simmons are understood to advocate prompt prosecution for contempt, it is thought by the majority that unanimous action be secured, if possible, and a hope of bringing about this result was responsible for the postponement.

Refuses to Give Names.

Point blank refusal on the part of Mr. Bigelow to repeat the substance of conversations he had with John R. Freeman of Providence, R. I., and William Barclay Parsons of New York, both eminent engineers, and declaration to give the names of other engineers with whom he had talked, constitute the offense which brought a halt to the investigation proceedings and caused the committee to turn its attention to the problem of how the witness should be punished.

Mr. Bigelow had been invited to appear before the committee to explain his charges of mismanagement against the canal commission which he made in an article recently published in the Independent, and later denounced by Secretary Taft. The witness first devoted considerable time to establishing his reputation as a man of letters before the senators and then plunged into canal affairs.

Uncle Sam (to the Martian)—I'm willing to bet a jug of cider that you never had any canal commissions or congress to deal with when you dug all those canals.

GENERAL LEE'S BIRTHDAY OBSERVED IN THE SOUTH

Legal Holiday Celebrations Take Place In Many Cities...Jackson's Widow Distributes Medals.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 19.—Gen. Robert E. Lee's birthday is celebrated here and throughout the South today and is observed even in northern states where Southerners live in large numbers. The public schools and banks are closed, and in northern states this state as a legal holiday. The local military organizations fired a salute this morning in honor of the day and this evening a number of banquets and memorial meetings will be held.

Charlotte, N. C.—Lee's birthday was observed here today, as in former years, by a large gathering of Confederate veterans and Confederate women. As usual, bronze medals were distributed among the veterans by Mrs. M. A. Jackson, the widow of the great Confederate general and in the afternoon and evening meetings will be held to honor the memory of the great leader.

Norfolk, Va.—Lee-Jackson day is observed here and all through the state of Virginia in the usual manner. The banks are closed and all business suspended.

Charleston, S. C.—The birthday of Gen. Robert E. Lee was celebrated here today by the closing of the banks, public offices and schools and memorial meetings held by Confederate societies.

Mobile, Ala.—In honor of Gen. Lee's birthday all the banks, public offices and schools in this city are closed today.

Jacksonville, Fla.—The anniversary of Gen. Lee's birthday was generally observed here as a legal and popular holiday.

FUND FOR MARINES' UNIFORMS IS SHORT

Prices of Materials Advanced from 15 to 60 Per Cent Since Appropriation Was Made.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 19.—The officers who have charge of the purchase of clothing and material for the marine corps have found that they are short of funds by something like $100,000 to meet the contracts which must be made in the purchase of materials used in the manufacture of uniforms. When the estimates were prepared some months ago the authorities ascertained the current market prices for wool, cotton, leather and rubber. Since then the prices of such supplies have considerably advanced. In the case of horses, out of which trousers and overcoats are made, the advance was sixty per cent or an increase in the quantity needed of nearly $50,000. Jacket flannel advanced 25 per cent and blankets 15 per cent. The average advance in prices for those and other materials was 45 per cent.

Dallas, Texas.—In honor of Gen. Lee's birthday a memorial meeting will be held here this evening at the Bush Temple of Music. Prominent speakers will address the meeting.

Houston, Tex.—The birthday of Gen. Lee was observed throughout the state by the local chapters of the Daughters of the Confederacy, who held memorial meetings with addresses, music and readings.

Savannah, Ga.—The whole city is celebrating the anniversary of Gen. Lee's birthday today. All banks and public offices, not controlled by the Federal government, are closed, also the schools. This evening a memorial meeting will be held at which prominent speakers will address the people and crosses of honor will be distributed to the Confederate veterans.

Helena, Mont.—The Southerners living in this city and the Helena Business Men's Association will honor the memory of Gen. Robert E. Lee's birthday by a big Southern dinner, to which all Southerners in this city and many other guests have been invited. Extensive preparations have been made for the event and special care has been taken to make it as much a typical southern dinner as it is possible to make in this part of the country.

Mr. E. C. Day will act as toastmaster and many prominent Southerners will answer toasts.

Atlanta, Ga.—As usual the Virginia Society of this city will observe Lee-Jackson day by a grand banquet, for which the most elaborate preparations have been made. Many distinguished Virginians of this city will be present and some excellent addresses will be delivered on that occasion.

INDIANAPOLIS HONORS GREAT GAELIC SCHOLAR

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 19.—The Irishmen of this city united their efforts today to give Dr. Douglas Hyde, the great Irish leader and champion of the Gaelic language a hearty welcome upon his arrival in this town and to honor him during his brief stay. When the distinguished guest arrived here, committees representing all Irish societies and organizations of this city were assembled at the station to receive and welcome him. There was an enormous crowd at the station and Dr. Hyde was greeted with cheers when he alighted from the train. The program for the day includes a number of social functions in honor of the distinguished guest and winding up with a monster meeting at Tomlinson Hall, where Dr. Hyde will deliver an address. Besides him there will be several other prominent speakers, including Vice President Fairbanks, who will preside. The Hibernal Singing Society will sing several choruses and an orchestra will furnish instrumental music.

TO ESTABLISH HOME FOR GOVERNESSES

Many Come from Europe and Become Subjects of Charity, Finding No Work Here.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Jan. 19.—An organization in which a large number of prominent society women are interested, has been formed for the purpose of providing help and assistance for many of the educated foreign women, mostly teachers and governesses, who are constantly coming to this country to gain a livelihood. Many of these women fail to succeed in their vocation and many of them are suffering from want and are compelled to seek the assistance of the consular representatives of their respective countries. Particularly the German consuls have taken great interest in the plan, as there is comparatively a greater number of German governesses than of any other nationality. Among other prominent society women, who took great interest in the matter are Mrs. Isaac Guggenheim and Mrs. Ludwig Sutter. The real originator of the movement, however, was a German governess, whose experience during twenty years of self-support in America has taught her many things about the hardships which women of her class have to endure. The organization proposes to begin on a small scale, a flat will be rented and furnished, which will serve as a social center for those who often know absolutely no one in the city and are helpless and without means. It is hoped that in the course of time the scope of the organization can be enlarged and a regular club house for governesses and teachers erected.

STATE NOTES

The Marinette County Training school under Prof. Olson is in prosperous condition. There are now fifty-one pupils, most of them being from the southern half of the county.

Officers for the ensuing year elected at the convention of the Northwestern Electrical Association at Chicago include First Vice-President E. B. Kirk and Secretary and Treasurer B. C. Adams, both of Oshkosh, Wis.

John Seiffa, state treasury agent at La Crosse during part of the La Follette administration, has pleaded guilty to larceny as bailee of license money collected in the name of the state. He received a jail sentence.

Twink Ross and Paul Dolan, La Crosse saloon men, were indicted by the United States grand jury which sat there in September last for violations of the federal revenue laws. The indictments were kept secret until Thursday. Both of the accused have pleaded not guilty and will stand trial.

The La Crosse and Southeastern railway is fighting several suits over land which was condemned. The owners of the land are suing for more than the condemnation commission awarded and are being given verdicts for as much as twice the amount of the original award. The cases will be appealed to the supreme court.

The will of Henry Dean of Racine leaves an estate of $50,000. Of this, the real estate goes to his son, William H. Dean, $7,000 to George Dean of Milwaukee, $1,000 to his nephews, and $1,000 to the Foreign Mission society of the Methodist church. All the rest is equally divided between his sons, Wilbur and George Dean.

ALL CHICAGO PAYS TRIBUTE TO FIELD

Business Generally Suspended During Noon Hour, While Funeral Cortege Passes to Cemetery.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

Chicago, Jan. 19.—From twelve to one o'clock this noon business in the city was generally suspended and Chicago, with this hour of silence, was paying tribute to her leading citizen and the world's greatest merchant—Marshall Field. The funeral cortege passed during this time from the home on the south side to Graceland cemetery on the north. Private services were held at the home and only a few were admitted to the graveyard. The employees of the company at which the deceased was the head attended the memorial services in the Auditorium this afternoon.

DENIES THE STORIES OF RECENT ARREST

Chicago Boy Is Not the Victim of the Russian Secret Police in St. Petersburg.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

Chicago, Jan. 19.—William Walling, a student of the social conditions in Russia, cabled his brother in this city this morning of his arrest, as rumored, for complicity in a revolution, which was neither hinted at nor possible. He says the rumors are absurd.

POISON FOR COLORADO GOVERNOR AND FAMILY

Former Executive Peabody, Wife and Daughter, Become Dangerously Ill After Eating Breakfast.

Canyon City, Col., Jan. 19.—Former Gov. James H. Peabody, his wife and daughter were poisoned by food that they ate at breakfast, Thursday morning, and the daughter, Miss Cora Peabody, is in a dangerous condition as a result. The governor and Mrs. Peabody, although quite ill for several hours, recovered sufficiently to devote their attention to the daughter. Physicians are in attendance upon the young lady and unless a change for the worse comes they believe she will escape serious consequences.

An air of mystery surrounds the affair. Enough was gleaned from friends of the family to show that there is a belief that an attempt was made to destroy the family by poison. An intimate friend of the Peabodys said that several letters had been received by the former governor within the past week or two calling his attention to the manner of the death of former Gov. Steiensenberg of Idaho and threatening him with a similar fate.

Mr. Peabody was governor of Colorado during the labor troubles at Cripple Creek and Telluride, when troops took possession of the two camps and during which time the Independence station dynamite explosion happened.

Rate Bills.

Washington, Jan. 19.—The house committee on interstate commerce will vote Tuesday on the rate bills under discussion.

"CAPITAL" JOKE OF KENTUCKY MURDERER

Made Miniature Gallows on Which Dummy Was Hung When Nickle Was Dropped in Slot.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 19.—William Van Dalsen, convicted of the murder of his mistress, Fanny Porter, was executed today by hanging in the county jail. He remained game to the last and showed remarkable nerve.

For weeks Van Dalsen had been laboring with his pocket knife on such work as he could lay his hands on, shaping the various pieces into a miniature gallows. After he had completed his task he discovered that he had omitted the defect, but not only remedied the defect, but added a dummy figure and a contrivance which caused the trap to spring and the little figure to drop through as far as the rope round its neck would permit, when a nickle was put in the slot. He set up his little model and attached a sign to it, which read: "Drop a nickle in the slot and see how it looks for a man to be hanged." He considered his handiwork a great joke and often made grim remarks about it to those who came to visit him and dropped nickles in the slot to see the model work. Van Dalsen killed Fanny Porter a little over a year ago by cutting her throat from ear to ear. He never denied the crime, but asserted that he had acted in self defense.

"HEATHEN CHINEE" IN THE WINDY CITY NOW

Great Chinese Commissioner and Suite Arrive in Chicago This Morning.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

Chicago, Jan. 19.—Chinese Commissioners Tungan Fang Tai-Hung and suite of fifty-eight arrived in Chicago this morning. They were greeted by the mayor and city officials. They will remain over Sunday inspecting the clubs, universities, factories, libraries and banks. Chinese and American banquets and automobile tours are on the program.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

Harold E. Johnson, hurt while coasting down hill, died at Sterling, Ill., of lockjaw.

Henry Miller, a wealthy farmer, committed suicide at Waterloo, Iowa, by taking carbolic acid.

Judge Ramsey has issued an injunction restraining the Sterling, Ill., high school trustees from collecting taxes in Colma township for maintaining the Sterling high school.

The interstate commerce commission has postponed the further hearing in the case of the railroad commission of Kentucky against the Louisville and Nashville and other railroads from Jan. 23 to Feb. 1. The hearing will take place at Louisville.

The senate in executive session confirmed the nomination of Julius S. Starr to be surveyor of customs of the port of Peoria, Ill.

William Ramaker, who murdered his wife in Sheboygan county Tuesday night, has retained Bowler & Bowler of Sheboygan to defend him, and the defense will probably be insanity. District Attorney Voight will charge that the deed was prompted by jealousy of the hired man who worked the farm while Ramaker was at the asylum.

ROOSEVELT TO AID ARMENIANS

Noted Foreigners Appeal To The President In The Name Of Suffering Humanity.

ASK FOR CONCERT OF THE POWERS

Chief Executive Of The United States Is Asked To Bring About A Conference Having For Its Aim Protection Of The People.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

Washington, Jan. 19.—President Roosevelt has been asked through a petition signed by many prominent European leaders to use his offices to bring about a concert of European powers to restore order in the Ottoman empire and to safeguard the lives of the Armenian people, who, it is declared, are beset by the barbarous Mussulman tribes surrounding them, who for more than ten years have sought their extermination.

In the interests of humanity and civilization the President is asked, by such means as may seem proper to him, to bring about the concert of the powers of Europe, with a view of securing for the subjects of the Ottoman empire that condition of public peace and order of which the absence has already drawn down upon that empire so many disasters, menacing it with the catastrophe of its total annihilation.

The appeal, which is the work of prominent European statesmen, educators, publicists and citizens, was presented to President Roosevelt Thursday by James B. Reynolds of New York. The petition was prepared by M. Berthelot, formerly senator and secretary of foreign affairs of France, and is signed by scores of the distinguished public men of every country in Europe.

The President has made no response to the appeal, but promised Mr. Reynolds to give it the most careful consideration, expressing meantime his appreciation of the honor done him as President and to America in having the petition presented to him.

IS ANNIVERSARY OF CZAR NICHOLAS' LUCKY ESCAPE

Just A Year Ago Today Russian Monarch Was Showered By Load Of Grape Shot From Saluting Gun.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

St. Petersburg, Jan. 19.—The miraculous escape from assassination of the czar and the other members of the royal family on the nineteenth day of January of last year was celebrated here today by impressive thanksgiving services in all the churches. This being the day of Epiphany, when, according to an ancient custom the czar, being the head of the Great Church of Russia, blesses the waters of the Neva, the whole city was in holiday attire. The blessing of the Neva is one of the greatest and most popular celebrations of Russia and usually attracts many thousands of people from all parts of the country. This year the ceremony was not as elaborate as in former years and greater precautions were taken to prevent a repetition of the attempt upon the life of the czar, which marked the festivities last year.

The ceremony of blessing the waters of the river had just ended, about one o'clock in the afternoon of January 19, 1905, and the czar still stood in the little chapel built out over the frozen Neva, in front of the winter palace, surrounded by members of the diplomatic corps and high dignitaries of the state, when the salute from the batteries on the big square in front of the Bourse was fired. A perfect hail of shot, as big as pigeon eggs, struck the chapel and the walls and windows of the winter palace beyond the chapel, narrowly missing the czar and the members of the imperial family, who occupied the windows and balconies of the palace, overlooking the scene of the ceremony.

An investigation showed that a full load of grapeshot had been fired from one of the cannons of the place in front of the Bourse. The gun had been carefully trained on the chapel, which stood in a line with the palace and it was considered a miracle that neither the czar nor any member of his family was killed or injured. Many windows of the palace were shattered by the grapeshot, but not a single person was injured. The police arrested the officers and men attending the battery and the latter were afterwards court-martialed. It was never ascertained whether the firing of the grapeshot was an accident or intentional. The theory was advanced that the gun had been held in readiness for an attack by the mob strikers and had been loaded with grapeshot and that it had been neglected to remove the grapeshot and substitute a blank cartridge, when the time came to fire the salute.

"Mr. Cleveland is not ill," said Dr. Bryant, "merely indisposed." The ex-president is at the home of Paul Morton, president of the Equitable, at Sixty first street and Park avenue. Mr. Morton said that Mr. Cleveland was visiting him as a guest and was not ill.

TO COUNTERACT BIG HONEY LIE

BEEKEEPERS FORM PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION.

ATTACK AUTHOR OF FALLACY

Dr. Wiley, Head of Government Bureau of Chemistry, Cause of Contention.

(By William Wolf Smith.)
Washington, D. C., January 19.—(Special correspondence.)—While it is generally admitted that strained honey is sometimes more or less adulterated, those interested in the production of honey insist that the presence of honey in the comb is absolute proof of its purity. This fact would be accepted by all, say the honey men, if it were not for a statement made twenty-five years ago by Dr. W. W. Wiley, now chief of the Bureau of Chemistry of the Department of Agriculture in a scientific paper in which he gravely asserted: "In commercial honey which is entirely free from bee medication, the comb is made of paraffine and filled with pure glucose by appropriate machinery. This honey, for whiteness and beauty, rivals the celebrated real white clover honey of Vermont, but can be sold at an immense profit at one half the price."

When Dr. Wiley's attention was originally called to his statement and its accuracy denied, he stated that when written it was "meant for a scientific pleasure" and intimated that the beekeepers who presented it "undergo a certain cerebral inspiration which renders them incapable of seeing the truth." As the National Beekeepers' Union did not appreciate the humor but believed this to be a serious matter, and one not to be trifled with, Mr. A. I. Root, of Medina, Ohio, at that time vice president of the National Beekeepers' Union, offered $1,000 for a sample of manufactured honey in the comb which drew from Dr. Wiley the statement that he had received the information on which he based his first statement from a Dr. E. J. Hallock, of Boston, who was, unfortunately, dead. Thus the statement of Dr. Wiley first made as a plain fact and then characterized as a scientific "pleasure" was subsequently claimed by him to have been made on the authority of a deceased chemist. Since that time, so far as known, Dr. Wiley has never corrected his statement, about paraffine combs and artificial honey, but, on the contrary, the statement according to Dr. Wiley "has appeared, I believe, in almost every publication in the country."

Because of the widespread circulation of Dr. Wiley's statement, and its incorporation in scientific works, both American and foreign, the honey men claim their business has been greatly injured and to offset the effect of this "scientific pleasure" they have formed the Honey Producers League, to conduct a campaign of education. As the first step in this campaign a remarkable document is being circulated among senators and members of congress giving certain correspondence with Dr. Wiley, with comments thereon and bearing the euphonious title of "The Wiley Honey Lie." Apparently the Honey Producers League is a trifle sore on the eminent exploit of the "poison squad" for the "Honey Lie" appears in the following language applied to Wiley:

"Therefore he knowingly, wilfully and maliciously lied on the whole cloth just to cause a sensation and to injure an honest pursuit. It is astonishing that any man could make such a barefaced confession without blushing for the very infamy it exhibited. To lie for the filthy lucre it."

WHAT DO YOU CARE? YOU'VE GOT YOUR HEALTH.

Great Nature: Do Not Despair at Disappointment—They Look For Something Else to Do.

The broadgauged man of today does not get blue just because things don't always come his way unless there is something the matter with him. If he falls down on one proposition he immediately starts to look up another. He always looks forward and keeps on hustling. A man with his health and health has plenty of opportunities and the man who gives up or even feels like it has either a small nature or some physical weakness.

Dyspepsia certainly puts the best of man out of condition for work of any kind. You cannot blame the dyspeptic for getting blue. The very nature of his disease is most depressing and calculated to deprive him of ambition, energy and hope. There is hope for him, however, certain and sure. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are recognized throughout the length and breadth of the land as the one cure that is safe and sure. Their unbounded popularity—resulting from the thousands and thousands of cures they have effected, prove beyond the shadow of a doubt their greatness as a cure. Wherein lies their greatness? In the very fact that they are Nature's own simple remedy. They do the exact work in exactly the same way that the digestive fluids of the stomach do because they are composed of exactly the same elements and possess the same properties. They relieve the weak and worn-out stomach of its burden of digestion and permit it without let or hindrance to rest and grow sound and well. The stomach will get well quick enough in its own natural way if it is alone. That is what Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do. They not only let it alone themselves but make the food taken into the stomach do the same.

You can satisfy yourself of the truth of this statement by putting the food you would eat into a glass jar with sufficient water and one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. The process of digestion will be taken up and carried out just as the gastric juice and other digestive fluids would do it. Their action is natural and they cause no disturbance in the digestive organs. In fact you forget you have a stomach when they begin to do their work, so mild and natural is their operation. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50c a box.

brings is bad enough, but when he permits that lie to be copied all over the world and to be used to injure an honest business without making the least endeavor to arrest its evil effect by a honest contradiction—the crime is doubled."

Commenting on Dr. Wiley's statement, Professor Eaton, the well known authority on pure food, is quoted in the "Honey Lie" as saying: "What is the cause of these unwise statements? First, perhaps, desire for publicity. Second, to alarm the public to a degree of food adulteration. Third, thorough ignorance."

According to those interested, the fight will be kept up and if Dr. Wiley does not correct his statements he will have a posthumous reputation second only to that of Ananias. The Honey Producers' League was organized last year particularly to combat Dr. Wiley's statements. It is incorporated in Illinois and has headquarters at Chicago.

Meanwhile, the National Beekeepers' Union has a standing offer of $1,000 to any one who will produce two pounds of manufactured honey in the comb as described by Dr. Wiley. This offer has been standing more than a year but has never been claimed. As far as the records show, Dr. Wiley is the only man who knows anything about such imitation honey and he obtained his information, so he says, from a chemist who unfortunately died twenty years ago and who cannot, therefore, substantiate Dr. Wiley's statements.

President Roosevelt has received from W. R. Stokely, an orange grower of St. Augustine and Jacksonville, Florida, a crate of especially fine oranges sent as a token of his esteem. The oranges were carefully selected by Mr. Stokely to represent the best fruit produced by his state. They were packed in a cylindrical crate, designed by Mr. Stokely and arranged so that as much of the fruit as desired for use at any time can be exposed. The remainder, each orange was packed in a separate compartment and the compartments arranged in trays with tops and bottoms. By sawing through the thin veneer covering the trays can be separated and the fruit used as will. If desired the trays can be packed with different kinds of fruit, such as oranges, grape fruit, tomatoes, strawberries, peaches, etc., each section being labeled and being separable from the package without disturbing the remainder of the fruit.

A monograph just issued by the Department of Commerce and Labor on Transportation Routes and Systems of the world, gives some very interesting statistics on the decadence of American shipping. In 1850 a half century ago—a period when steam was coming into favor, America had in its foreign trade ships aggregating 2,343,353 tons, of which 115,045 tons were steam tonnage. In 1905 the total tonnage of American ships engaged in the foreign trade was only 943,750, of which 596,354 tons were steam. In other words, while this country has led all others in growth of population, wealth, commerce, manufactures and railroad building, its shipping in the foreign trade has steadily decreased until it is only slightly more than one-third what it was half a century ago. America has a total ocean tonnage, according to the Department of Commerce and Labor, of 7,456,543 tons, including the whale, cod and mackerel fisheries and of this total 5,441,688 tons is employed in coastwise and lake trade and in the fisheries and only 943,750 in the foreign trade. According to Lloyd's register, England and her colonies have 17,009,720 tons, Germany, 3,564,798 tons; France, 1,738,083 tons; Norway, 1,770,218 tons; Argentina, 1,159,906 tons. As to its shipping in foreign trade, the United States ranks ninth, with Japan with 573,553 tons, Russia, 523,909 tons, Sweden, 504,046 tons, and Austria-Hungary 418,104 tons. The lowest point in our foreign shipping was in 1898 when it was 756,212 tons. In ten years from 1895 to 1905, it increased 26,955 tons, equal to about two ships.

Musical lovers will be interested in knowing that Mr. Nicholas Longworth, the prospective son-in-law of President Roosevelt, is an accomplished musician and comes from a family which has done much for music. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt are both unusually fond of music. Mrs. Roosevelt, possessing considerable ability as a musician, is a most popular feature of the Roosevelt administration. Postmaster General Cortelyou, himself a musician, and naturally well informed on musical matters, while secretary to the President, has charge of arranging these musical programs and has given his advice to Secretary Loeb on occasions of this character. The Roosevelts have three pianos in the White House, the one in the East Room being a magnificent instrument presented to the White House by a prominent piano company and costing, it is claimed, something like $10,000. The other two pianos are in the private apartments. Miss Alice Roosevelt performs on the piano with considerable ability and possesses a "pleasing voice." She makes no pretense at being a finished musician, having never seriously cultivated her talents.

Mr. Longworth, when a young man, studied the violin for years and is said to be able to play the Krutzer Sonata so as to please the most captious critics. He was a pupil of the famous artist Ysaye, and possesses several compositions with his individual markings. Mr. Longworth's aunt, his father's sister, now Mrs. Bellamy Storer, was identified with the musical establishment of the College of Music in Cincinnati and with the great opera festivals in that city through her first husband, the late George Ward Nichols, of that city. It is said that Mr. Nichols gave about $100,000 a year for the Cincinnati festivals and it was through his interest and that of Mrs. Longworth's sister, that Mr. Longworth became interested in music.

Jefferson High School Five to Meet Locals—Home Team Strengthened.

This evening at quarter of eight o'clock the basketball team representing the local high school and that of the Jefferson high school will be arrayed against each other on the gymnasium floor of the high school building. The Janesville five has been considerably strengthened by the addition of Sennett. He has been one of the pillars of the team in three former seasons. The line-up will be: Morse and Dreyer, forwards; Sennett, center; Bert Baker and Lee, guards. The Jefferson aggregation will arrive this afternoon twenty-five strong.

YOUNG PEOPLE TO STUDY SOCIOLOGY

Members of Presbyterian Y. P. S. C. E. to Have Bi-Weekly Literary Program.

Under the direction of the literary committee, headed by Miss Nettie Holt, the members of the Young People's Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church will soon take up some sociological study. The plan is to hold a meeting every other Tuesday evening and for each a program of papers on the subject being studied and of music will be arranged. The first meeting is to be held February seventh and the early life of Jacob Riis, the great New York sociologist and slum worker will be discussed. Current topics in line with the general theme which the society has chosen will also be considered.

GROW NEW CROPS FOR EVERY MONTH

TEXAS-BLOSSOMS LIKE THE FAMOUS GARDENS OF BIBLE TIMES

UNBOUNDED PRODUCTIVITY

Work for the Farmer the Year—Cheap Lands That Pay for Themselves in Short Time.

Twenty years ago Texas was the greatest cattle country in the world. Thousands of herds wandered over its rich prairies and fortunes were made by men who never owned a foot of land. Today conditions have changed. The advent of the railroads into hitherto sparsely settled districts has brought about the second stage in the development of this rich state. Today Texas is looked upon as the future fruit and vegetable producing country of the United States. Small farms are being cleared and already long trainloads of Texas products find their way to the northern markets. One beauty of this country is that the farmer can grow a crop a month and find good market for all his produce.

A Few Facts.
In speaking of this wonderful country Mr. Chas. H. Lee, of the firm of Fish, Lee & Fish of Evansville, says: "You cannot over-estimate the value of the opportunity offered by cheap Texas lands. This is a bonanza for the men with small means who want to own their own homes and be independent. Our terms for the farms are selling is half down and the balance on time. The prices vary according to location, but fifteen dollars an acre is about the average. I have been asked by several correspondents regarding the way the places are made to pay for themselves and in reply I am going to publish a letter from one of the farmers of this district which will illustrate better than I can tell, just how a small farm is made to pay for itself and all its improvements with one crop. I doubt if any other section of the known civilized world can make such a showing."

How It Is Done.
"Fruit of all kinds does well, but one to have success must irrigate, which is inexpensive here. One well complete, $355; reservoir, $100; ditches $50, total $505. For forty acres about $12.75, land $5, clearing same $8, total $23.75 per acre. One crop, say of potatoes, will yield at a very small crop of 100 bushels per acre at 75c per bushel, $2,000; cost of producing, marketing and all expense the peasant farmer $1,000 net profit $1,000. Cost of land, well and ditch, $100, net profit last year $1,700. Now I have taken the commonness of crops and have produced but one crop, what will it do with more profitable crops, such as alfalfa, peas, beans, cabbage, etc. The greatest of all money-makers, onions. Com, under irrigation, will beat those figures."

The Small Farmer.
To the farmer in our section of the state where a farm of a hundred to two hundred acres works fifty to a hundred dollars an acre, barely pays four percent on the money invested, the small farmer of the southwest are a revelation. Twenty-five to a hundred acres in the Alice country, of New Mexico, is big enough for any kind of a farm. It is not poor worn-out land, but land that has never had a plow stick into it and which is as good as any virgin land anywhere. On a few acres of this great country is the opportunity of a Texas farmer can work the year round out of doors. In fact, the small farmer can produce and sell something every month. The Texas farmers do not have to use their summer earnings to tide them over the winter. They are producing all the time. The winters are like the Wisconsin autumns. In summer the trade winds blow almost continuously from the Gulf, making the atmosphere cool and invigorating.

Just a Comparison.
Just as a comparison of the month of October in Wisconsin and Texas take the following. October in Wisconsin: Getting cold and making you think of providing shelter for man and beast. Frost reported in many localities, killing all vegetation. In Texas at the same time: Sowing seeds: cabbage, cauliflower, carrots, lettuce, onion sets, peas, radishes, spinach and turnips. In Wisconsin the fifteenth and follow with Succession and Early Summer. Take your strawberries up, clean them from runners and set them out again. The month of October is a busy month for the Texas farmer, as all the winter vegetables not already planted must be in the ground this month to be ready for the January and February markets. How is that for a comparison?

The Irrigation.
While the word irrigation is perhaps new to the Rock county farmer, its simplicity in Texas is such that it brings no fears to the minds of the producers. In a future letter I shall have more to say about this interesting subject and explain just what it means. One thing more I want to impress on your minds and that is this: Cattle, hogs and horses can run out of doors the whole year round, thus doing away with the expensive stabling and feed necessary for the cold winters of the north when all vegetation is dead. I am answering many inquiries as to this land and shall be pleased to give any information possible to those desiring it.

If you enjoy molasses and apples, try Mrs. Austin's Pancakes and you will be delighted with the results.

LEG BROKEN IN A BOB-SLED UPSET

Fourteen Year Old Ruth Wheeler Was Seriously Injured on the South Bluff Street Hill

In a bob-sled upset on the South Bluff street hill near the Oakland avenue intersection late yesterday afternoon fourteen-year-old Ruth Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wheeler, sustained a fracture of the left leg and several of the other children including Cassie Blodgett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blodgett, and Helen Jeffris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Jeffris, were badly bruised. The sled was well under way when a horse and buggy turned on to the street directly in its path. Willie Hyle, who was steering, in order to avoid running into the sled, gave a sudden turn to the runners and the whole party was hurled violently to the ground some distance below. As soon as help could be gotten the little Wheeler girl was conveyed to her home, 205 South Bluff street, and a physician called to set the broken bones. She is getting along as well as can be expected, but it will be some weeks before she will be able to join her playmates again.

"WHO'S BROWN?" WITH A NEW TITLE

Mrs. Temple's Telegram Delighted a Large Audience at the Myers Theatre Last Evening

What's in a name? When William Morris and his company came to Janesville on October 21, 1904, to present Frank Wyatt's three-act comedy "Who's Brown?" they received scant attention from the theatre-going public, though every member of the slim audience which greeted them was well rewarded. Last evening Mrs. Temple's Telegram, a new play, played a new name, a new cast, new scenery and costumes, and the backing and prestige of long runs in Chicago and New York theatres, pleased a large house at the Myers Grand. Harry Conroy was the irresistibly funny "Wigson," the butler, whose infernal meddling in the private affairs of his employers and endeavors to parallel modern instances with copious quotations from his own family history, coupled with his "last word" in the frequent forced retreats, kept the onlookers in constant merriment. His remarkable facial contortions in "swallowing" an ill considered chuckle in the last act brought down the house. Nevertheless the role hardly provided the opportunities worthy of a man who has had such a successful career as a farceur as Harry Conroy.

William Lamp was excellent as the imperturbable "Frank Fuller," the helpful liar who tried to be a friend in time of need, and Frank Goldsmith, though he overplayed the part of "Jack Temple" at times, gave a very good delineation. Margaret Drew of the "Who's Brown?" company provided a much more pleasing portrayal as "Mrs. Jack Temple" than did Miss Skipworth last evening. The latter did not bring to her part the grace of manner and the pleasing voice which could create sympathy as on the former occasion, even for the unreasonable outbursts of temper. She was almost shrewish at times.

It is hard to believe that Carey Hastings who appeared as Mrs. John Brown, Christian name Martha, the "lady from Pickleton," was not the same Sadie Stringham who played in the former production. She succeeded in making the small part a very interesting one. The real John Brown was a caricature which might have jumped out of some Sunday supplement. Had it been less so it would have pleased better. Sidney Lee played it. Mabel Cameron was charming as "Dorothy" and Lionel Walsh made a very adequate "Capt. Sharp." The plot is a complicated one, abounding in amusing situations and the several characters are clear and distinct. The stage setting and the production was one of the best that has appeared here this season.

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, January 19, 1896.—Merchants' Police. This organization has passed into the hands of our citizens, much to the satisfaction of all concerned. It is without doubt, a good thing, and in its present hands should receive the confidence of our citizens. The force now consists of Wm. P. Burroughs, Frank and Benjamin Dutton.

Letter From a Rock County Man in Missouri.—We take the liberty of making an extract from a private letter from Mr. Harvey Hart, who has just removed from La Prairie to Martinsburg, Audrain county, Missouri. It will be read with interest by his many friends, who still have a habitation in the "promised land."

"I like the looks of the country very much, but the advantages of schools and meetings are not as good as present as they are in Wisconsin, and there is not near the advancement made in agriculture. This region of the country is more adapted to stock raising and fruit growing. Peaches, apples, pears, cherries, and every kind of fruit adapted to the northern climate flourish finely here. I can tell the people of this state are divided into three classes politically. First, the radical or Fremont stripe, next the conservative or Lincoln party, and last the Southern symphizers. The radical party holds the reins of State at present very much to the annoyance of both other parties. As for mildness of the climate here, I will give you the indications of the mercury for comparison:

December 27, 15 degrees above zero. December 28, 16 degrees above zero. December 29, 24 degrees above zero. December 30, 30 degrees above zero. January 1, 14 degrees above zero. Prices of stock compare with prices in Rock Co., very nearly when I left. Pork nine to ten dollars; beef $4 to $4.50 on foot; sheep $3 to $4; cows $20 to $70; horses from $100 to $150; mules from $100 to $200; corn 25 cents per bushel; oats 50c; wheat $2; groceries, freighted, $2.50 per 100; sugar from 10 to 23 cents per pound; coffee, fair grade, 37 1/2 cents; feathers, new geese, 60 cents per pound; sorghum 50 cents; apples, green, one dollar per bushel, dried, 12 1/2 cents per pound; peaches five dollars per bushel, and other things in proportion.

Our Madison Correspondent Making His Mark.—In speaking of the different newspaper correspondents now at Madison, the editor of the "Capital" truthfully says: "Mr. Ross' letters to the Janesville Gazette are wide awake, readable, judicial and full of news." The compliment is well deserved.

MAY IRWIN IN "MRS. BLACK IS BACK" WHICH IS HERE MONDAY.

Irwin last night made her re-entrance upon the New York stage at the Bijou Theatre, where a crowd of friends and well-wishers had assembled to give her unqualified welcome. Miss Irwin has not diminished in the last two years, nor has the fact that she has made her will in anywise "gloomed" her beaming countenance or lessened the supply of her irresistible good nature. She is still the May Irwin of old, coming down to the footlights trancing, is the description given this comedy, which will be presented at the Myers Grand tomorrow night. The music is tuneful, the dances unique, the dialogue bright, the music entrancing. The company includes such names as Fred V. Mace, Kathryn Osterman, R. E. Graham, Dorothy Maynard, James Devlin, Lulu McConnell, Lisle Bloodgood and a number of others as well known. There is also the Pony Ballet, an octette of pretty

R. E. GRAHAM IN "B. C. WHITNEY'S COMEDY 'PIFF! PAFF! POUFI'" clever dancing girls, whose gingersy capers go far to make the ensemble numbers stunning.

The story of "Piff! Paff! Poufi" concerns a man by the name of August Melon, who is left a fortune by his deceased wife on condition that he does not marry until all of his four daughters find husbands. As the gay widow or cruised around Atlantic City he met the handsome widow Montague, whom he at once declares to be his affinity. She agrees with him, and they immediately formulate plans for marrying off the four daughters. Of course the situations resulting are exceedingly funny.

"Piff! Paff! Poufi" is called a musical cocktail, whatever that may be. That it is one of the cleverest productions on the road is acknowledged by all who have seen it. The management presents it with nearly the same New York cast and scenery which gave such satisfaction in that city for months.

Store-management is something of "black art," for printer's ink is usually "store-management"—only store-keeping.

Chicago is having two cat shows in one winter. It is a strange world we live in.

The Algebras conference is still in session and the end is not yet seen.

Mayor Dunne of Chicago appears to be having a hard time with his special traction agents.

Western Wisconsin is attracting considerable attention all over the country just now.

The St. Petersburg police locked up a revolutionary committee and considered they had done their duty.

Senator Depew evidently does not believe that all this bluster about his resigning is worth consideration.

The prospect of Castro getting a good wholesome spanking by France is becoming brighter every day.

Baseball in Janesville appears to be having an impetus. Next thing is to get the team to push it along.

Chicago is to have five hundred more police at once. This is brought about by the regime of crime that exists in the windy city.

Cadet Merriweather has handed in his resignation as a student at the naval academy but this will not save him from being dismissed for hazing.

Ex-Governor Scofield seems to be having his innings just at present and other people at bat are much worried by the curves of his lawyer's queries.

An appreciative judge of good speeches says that Senator Depew would enjoy reading the eulogy read by Senator Brackett of the New York legislature.

All Chicago pays tribute to the late Marshall Field. But once in the history of any city does such a man live and die and their tribute to his greatness is but fitting.

France has chosen a new president and is now ready to do business at the same old stand. At best the French president is merely a figure-head.

Evidently Editor Myrick has not been a careful reader of his own paper when he publishes "Uncle Ike's" statement one month that he never contributed a cent to elect John C. Spooner, senator, and the next says that he believes the story. Something is wrong. Man, paper, or news.

TO THE BELOIT FREE PRESS.

Pluck the beam from your own eye before you seek to cast the mote from your neighbors. The Gazette is not taking the sage of the Line city to task for worshipping at the altars of the false gods, on the other hand it concedes with him that such a subjective-mien is necessary to one formerly so fearless in denunciation of the rights and wrongs of the political world. The conscience of the Free Press must have been suffering and it is hoped the recent effusion will relieve the overcharged atmosphere and the war clouds that hover will be dispelled. The Gazette is not trying to force down the maws of any organization, corporation or assembly its views on certain subjects but when it sees erring brothers sacrificing themselves on the altars of the false gods it will call attention to the ancient rites of religion long obsolete.

A LUCKY COUNTRY.

Under this caption the Wall Street Journal has much to say about the great goodness that has come to this country. Its paean of thanksgiving is well worth reproducing and is as follows:

This is a lucky country. Its escapes are as marvelous as its natural resources. The dangers that it has dodged are as numerous as the victories which it has achieved. It continually has a problem on hand that seems to be beyond solution. But at the very moment when the country is on the eve of giving up in despair, presto! the problem solves itself.

Neither wars nor rumors of wars, neither panics nor booms seem to be able to destroy us.

As a people, we do all sorts of things that we ought not to do, and yet while we stumble sometimes, we do not actually fall. We run into promotion crazes, into wild speculations and are guilty of all sorts of abuses, and still we are unable to stop the rapid progress of the country. We squander our means in extravagant living and yet our excesses do not involve us in disaster. We become contemptuous of law; we suffer ourselves to be led by our noses by corrupt bosses; we follow dishonest leaders in finance; we are neglectful of plain defects in our social, political and economic systems; we will not take the time to effect reforms until the very last moment when reform is possible;—but still we always land upon our feet.

Here we are at the opening of 1908 in a condition of absolutely unequalled prosperity, when everything seems to have conspired to our advantage, even our own misdeeds, our own neglects and our own crimes. Look back upon the past year, and take note of the number of things which we ought to have done but did not, and the number of things which we ought not to have done, and did. We know very well that our maladministration of insurance and other trust funds ought to have involved us in national disgrace and disaster. Yet a lucky quarrel between two financial interests for the control of one of the insurance companies, has led to an exposure of abuses, and thus to reform, which will be for the benefit instead of the loss of the country. We know very well that our banks and trust companies overextended their loans to speculative interests, invaded their reserves and did other things which conservative commercial banks ought not to do, and yet we have passed through one of the most stormiest periods of the money market, unshaken and without any check to business activity. We have undertaken to put upon the statute books a law for the regulation of railway rates, but even this drastic reform does not prevent a wonderful revival of railway building, and a still more wonderful increase in railway earnings. We are spending enormous sums in luxurious living, but still our mines and our farms are producing so lavishly that the wealth of the country is increasing at a rate that is truly stupendous.

GOOD COUNSEL.

The old proverb says: "In a multitude of counselors there is wisdom."

Just so. Surely the multitude of Janesville people, who testify to the ability of Dr. Richards to do painless dentistry, ought to be convincing that he is doing what he is talking about.

And when they one and all counsel you to try him for your dental work, it OUGHT to BEAR WEIGHT with you.

Don't it look reasonable that what he does for them, he can do for you? And if there is anything in the world that would please you, it is the thought of getting absolute immunity from pain in dental work.

But to prove it to your personal satisfaction Dr. Richards must be given the chance to do your dentistry. Drop in and talk it over with him. He will tell you exactly what the bill will amount to, so you can plan your resources and know where you will come out.

STANLEY B. SMITH HAS PASSED AWAY

PRESIDENT OF FIRST NATIONAL BANK DIED THIS MORNING.

A PROMINENT MAN GONE

Has Long Been Identified with the Growth and Prosperity of Janesville.

After several weeks of patient suffering, Stanley B. Smith, president of the First National Bank of this city, passed to the great beyond today. For the past twenty-four hours his condition has been critical and the end came this morning at nine-twenty. In the death of Mr. Smith the city of Janesville has lost a prominent citizen and his family and near friends a loving husband and true friend.

STANLEY B. SMITH.

His demise leaves a vacancy that will be hard to fill in the business and social world in which he moved.

Born in the East Stanley B. Smith was born in Philadelphia, Jefferson county, N. Y., October 4, 1843. With his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Smith, he came to Wisconsin in 1846 and lived his early years in the town of Union. When a young man he came to Janesville and for many years was interested in the Cloy Reaper Manufacturing Company, with his two brothers, being a stockholder and director in the company. In 1876 he entered the Rock County National Bank as bookkeeper, remaining with this institution until May of 1894, when he resigned and soon afterwards became President of the First National Bank, which position he held at the time of his death. He was married in 1889 to Miss Martha M. Logan. His widow and two sisters, Mrs. Thomas Alsop of Brooklyn, Wis., and Mrs. Mary Richardson of Santa Barbara, California, survive him.

Prominent in City For over a third of a century Mr. Smith has been actively identified with the banking industries of the city. Entering the Rock County National Bank as a bookkeeper he filled successively the positions of teller and cashier and later became President of the First National Bank. He has always been prominent in the growth of industrial Janesville and has taken an active part in the development of new industries. He was a careful business man and under his able direction his bank has prospered.

Of Literary Tastes Mr. Smith was not only a careful student of business but enjoyed literary work. As a young man he attended the University of Michigan and later studied law, but gave the latter up to enter a business life. He has always been recognized as a writer of good English, though he would not consent to publish anything over his own name. He was an active member of the different literary organizations of the city and was one of the leaders of the "Round Table," a famous club of its kind several years ago.

The Library It was due to Stanley Smith's untiring efforts that Janesville today has the public library. It has ever been his aim to aid and foster this organization, often doing menial labor himself, that it might succeed. His charities were manifold and even his intimate friends did not know their extent or nature. Many a donation has found its way to the home of the poor and needy without the name of the donor ever having been discovered.

Lived for Others Mr. Smith always took an active part in anything that pertained to the public good, but declined all political preference. A republican in politics, he has been an active worker for its principles. He has held positions as member of the school board and library board, but has refused higher honors offered him. Jovial and pleasant, making no enemies, a brilliant conversationalist, he was capable in every way. In his death he leaves a host of friends to mourn his loss. The funeral will be held from his late residence on Garfield avenue on Sunday afternoon at two-thirty, Rev. R. M. Vaughan officiating.

Mrs. J. W. Hodgins The remains of the late Mrs. J. W. Hodgins arrived here from Mason City, Iowa, this morning at 11:40 o'clock and were taken to the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. John Steel, at 55 Caroline street. The funeral services will be held at 8:45 o'clock tomorrow morning from St. Mary's church. Rev. W. A. Goebel officiating. Burial will be at Mt. Olivet cemetery.

John LeRoy Clough Funeral services over the remains of the late John LeRoy Clough, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Clough, were held from the home at two o'clock this afternoon and from St. Patrick's church at half-past two. Rev. Dean E. M. McGinnity officiated. Interment was in Mount Olivet.

Gazette wants reach 10,000 people.

ISSUE INVITATIONS FOR MILITARY BALL

Canton Janesville To Be Hosts of February 1—Many from Out of Town to Be Guests.

Invitations have been issued for the fourth annual grand military ball to be given on the evening of Thursday, February 1, at Assembly hall under the auspices of Canton Janesville, number 8, Patriarchs Militant. The grand march, which will be at half-past eight, will be led by the Chevaliers in full uniform. Many of the high officers of the order expect to be present and Commandant Robinson has received word from General J. C. Ellacott of Chicago that he and his staff of eight, the head of the Illinois order, will come. Lieutenant Colonel D. C. Stocken and a company of twenty from the Canton at Puyuka, Richard Roe of Milwaukee, Grand Secretary for Wisconsin, Captain H. H. Roberts and a party of six from the Appleton Canton, Grand Patriarch Alex. Johnstone of Chippewa Falls and a delegation from Baraboo are among others to be present. The affair is in charge of the following committees: on arrangements—Fred L. Smith, Harry P. Robinson, F. H. Koebelin, Leslie Holmes, G. H. Webster; reception—members of Canton and Ladies; floor—James A. Pathe, G. H. Koebelin, Otto E. Smith, G. H. Webster, H. P. Robinson.

PROGRAM FOR BURNS FESTIVAL COMPLETE

Lotus Male Quartet in Charge—Rev. J. W. Laughlin to Deliver the Address.

Arrangements for the program which will form a portion of the Bobbie Burns anniversary festival of the Caledonian society next Wednesday evening have been completed. The Lotus Male Quartet has been in charge and the following numbers will be given:

"Ye Banks and Braes" Max Vorigish Lotus Male Quartet.
Reading—Miss Amy Woodruff Vocal Solo—Leonard Mathews Address—Rev. J. W. Laughlin "Hell Take the Pills" Parks Lotus Male Quartet.
Reading—Miss Amy Woodruff "To Little Lamb" Dunbar Lotus Male Quartet.
The quartet is composed: first tenor—Edward O. Smith, second tenor—Harry P. Robinson; first bass—George H. Robinson; second bass—Leonard Mathews. Following the program there will be a dance, for which the Kneff and Hatch full orchestra will play.

UNION SERVICE AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Everyone Will Be Welcomed This Evening—Interest Is Increasing Nightly.

There was a large attendance at the union services at the Presbyterian church last evening and Rev. R. M. Vaughan delivered a strong address on text of the foolish man who said he had much treasure laid up for many days and to whom God said: "This night thy soul is required of thee." The congregational singing was spirited and Mrs. Kneff rendered "Eternity" with much feeling. The services will again be held at the Presbyterian church this evening and Rev. Tippet of the Methodist congregation will lead. "Everyone will be welcome. The meetings next week will be held at the Methodist church on South Main street."

LOCAL LACONICS

Milton Parties in Mine: The Little Dick Mining company has been formed by Milton and Waukesha parties for the purpose of operating the Little Dick mine in the Cuba City district. This mine joins the Winklow mine on the west.

Another Mining Co.: Yesterday a party of local men including A. M. Valentine, M. G. Jeffris, Dr. W. H. Judd, George Sutherland, W. H. Greenman, C. S. Putnam, F. C. Cook, F. E. Sales, and Frank Fifield inspected the 80-acre tract adjoining the Baxter mine near Cuba City which they have leased and they will meet at W. G. Wheeler's office at 7:30 this evening to organize a company.

Show Going East: The "Mrs. Temple's Telegram" theatrical company, which came here from Watertown, left this morning for Belvidere, where they appear this evening. Tomorrow they leave for Plattsburg, quitting this portion of the country for a time.

Here Over Sunday: The "Piff! Paff! Pout!" theatrical troupe, which plays here tomorrow evening, comes from Chicago over the North-Western road at 11:40 o'clock tomorrow morning. The company will remain in Janesville over Sunday, leaving Monday morning for Elgin, Ill. at 9:20.

Opens Tomorrow: The seat sale for "Mrs. Black Is Back" May Irwin, opens tomorrow morning at nine. The sale for "Piff! Paff! Pout!" has been exceptionally large.

Looking for Son: Patrick McGeehey of Chicago is here today looking for a son by the same name whom he is sure has resided on a farm in this county for 40 years, but whose name appears in no directory.

SOME OFFICERS TO GET RAISE

COUNTY OFFICERS ADOPTED NEW SCHEDULE.

TOTAL INCREASE IS $620

Supervisor Bear Says That with Fair Compensation They Won't Want to Grab on the Side.

Supervisors Hopkins, McEvoy, and Paul, composing the special committee appointed for the purpose, reported at the meeting of the county board this morning a schedule of salaries for the county officers beginning with the first of January, 1907. The schedule was adopted and involves a total increase of $620. It was as follows: Register of deeds—$1,800; first deputy—$600; second deputy—$500. Clerk of Court—$1,700; deputy—$720. County Clerk—$1,200; deputy—$400. District Attorney—$1,200. County Treasurer—$1,200. County to pay for his bond. Sheriff—$1,000 and all statutory fees. Coupled with the schedule was a recommendation that the salaries for the deputies of the register of deeds be paid direct to them and not through the register, thus obviating any difficulties that may arise at a future time. In yesterday's report of the same committee the sheriff's salary was placed at $900. Today's report contained $100 increase. By the new schedule the salaries of the first and second deputies for the register of deeds are each increased $100. The salary for the clerk of court's deputy is increased $120. The treasurer's salary is apparently increased $200, but the actual gain to that officer is about $100, as the county will not pay for a deputy as it did last year. The salary of the county clerk's deputy is increased $100. No change is made in the clerk's salary, though he is now deemed by law of the $75 fees for acting on the purchasing committee and the ten per cent fees on the marriage licenses.

Reasons for Advances In explaining the reasons for the increases, Supervisor Hopkins said that owing to the new laws which require the reporting of accidents, etc., and the increased business of the office proper, it was deemed expedient to raise the salaries of the two deputies for the register of deeds. The total salary list for the office during the past year was $2,700 while the receipts amounted to $4,300. In the clerk of court's office there had been 40 more cases than heretofore during the past year and the office had returned to the county $700 more than it did last year. In order to retain the deputies it was almost imperative to increase their compensation. The interest paid on the funds in the care of the treasurer amounted to $1,076 during the past year and would be more than enough to pay his salary when the new schedule should be in effect. Supervisor Bear said that he had always been in favor of paying good salaries to the officers "would not want to grab on the side, as some had done in the past."

Other Business Taken Up

Yesterday a resolution was passed allowing Editor C. E. Libby of Evansville, Ind., of the $30 and some cents which had been previously disallowed on his printing bill. Supervisor Crosby this morning moved a reconsideration of that motion, but this motion was lost by a close vote. Committee No. 17, to which was referred the reports of the county school superintendents, moved through its chairman that they be placed on file without recommendations. A proposal to allow the superintendent of the first district a salary of $200 for a deputy was made a special order of business for this afternoon, there being some legal question as to the board's powers in this regard. A motion to appropriate $200 for traveling expenses and $200 for stationary for that official was declared illegal by Chairman Livemore. Such expenses, he said, could only be paid after itemized bills had been presented and audited by the board and the action in making advance appropriations last year, he had learned from District Attorney Newhouse, was illegal. It was decided by the passage of a resolution to build a brick sidewalk on the jail lot. Bill 314 was referred to Poor Commissioner Slegmiller with power to settle it.

Motion to Investigate Lost

This afternoon a resolution instructing committee No. 3 to examine the records for six years and report the names of all officers who had illegally received money from the board and details was laid on the table. $612 was appropriated for the bonds for the treasurer and supervisor of assessments. The sum of $10 was voted the chairman for signing orders. Authority was given the proper committee to have the interior of the first floor of the courthouse repainted and re-kalsomined. By a resolution introduced by Supervisor Bear the turnkey at the county jail will hereafter receive his salary direct instead of through the sheriff.

Farewell Address of Chairman

Supervisors Jones and Gillies introduced a burlesque resolution which was lost. It was a parody on some of the wordy instruments that have been submitted. A resolution thanking Chairman Livemore for his uniform fairness, courtesy, and ability as presiding officer having been introduced and passed by unanimous vote, he responded in a short address in which he thanked his colleagues for their testimonial. He reviewed in brief the work of the board during his eight years' membership and during the past year. $17,045.82 was now in the treasury and every outstanding voucher accounted for. It was voted that the farewell address be incorporated in the minutes. The petition of Capt. Pliny Norcross regarding taxes on the town of Fulton dam which he regards as unjust was rejected. The board adjourned and the members will not assemble again until after the spring election.

Consider Amendments

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 19.—The miners considered a number of constitutional amendments today. They voted down the proposed amendment to draw the color line.

HIAWATHA COMPANY WAS INCORPORATED

Old Rock County Mineral Water Company Is Purchased by Three Capitalists.

The Hiawatha Springs company of Janesville, water and bottling company, with a capital stock of $100,000, incorporated, T. S. Nolan, Jennie L. Burke and Arthur M. Fisher, has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. This takes over the assets of the Rock County Mineral Water Co. Louis W. Park, Minneapolis; A. Y. Nevill, Minneapolis; and T. S. Nolan are now the owners. The name Hiawatha will be given the water which comes from the Burr Springs up the river. Should the interurban be built to Madison this summer the bottling works will be built at the springs, if not the water will be piped to the North-Western road, where a siding will be built and bottling works erected.

OUR GREEN TAG PUSH SALE

Continues Until January 27th.

A year ago we inaugurated this Great Green Tag Sale. Our Summer Clearance Sale is a Red Tag Sale. Our customers have learned that Green Tag or Red Tag prices with us mean prices cut to the quick. A genuine stock-clearing sale—not of goods accumulated through years of business. We make clean sweeps every season and offer you new and up to date goods.

The Greatest Price Cuts Come Now. Read Every Item

We invoice February 1, and will make deep inroads into the stock during the next week. Money savers will profit by this sale.
